On May 5th the Dwight New York fifth grade had a trip to London, where we would stay in a host family's house that had a son in Dwight School London. I got to stay with Matthew as my buddy and I got Jake and his brother Theo as Dwight London student. While we were in London we did a lot of cool things with the school, first of all we went to the London Eye, what was ok. After the London Eye we went to the Dungeon, what was really cool. After that we went to the British Museum and the Harry Potter tour. On Wednesday we went to the Jubilee Market, where we could buy a lot of things for our families and ourselves. And the last thing we did before leave was that we went to the Tower of London where we could see all the things that happened there, as torture and Ravens.
